fellow. Robinson took out his gun and shot twice. The tribal men got scared and ran away. He saved the tribe and named him Friday as he met him on Friday. At last, he had a human friend in the island. Robinson taught Friday to speak in English, to shoot and eat like a human.

One day, they both saved some people from the cannibals. Among them, they found Friday's father and his friends. They stayed with Robinson and Friday for a few days and left the island. Another day, Friday informed Robinson about a ship. They both hid and watched the ship. Robinson learnt that the ship's
