single type of food available across the shops. On the second day, Jayan got sick due to food poisoning. So he decided to spend the money only on toys. The eldest of the kids were Kamali and Senthil. They were determined to save the money and use it purposefully. So they controlled their desires and saved every rupee they got.

By the end of the festival, they managed to save around three hundred rupees. Grandfather was so happy to see their effort.

Senthil, when he went home, took his father to the nearest post office and opened a savings account. He saved all his pocket money and found new ways to save money like he started to walk instead of taking the bus. He kept his stationeries safely so that he did not have to keep buying them. He re-used his old books to save money. Soon, his father made him understand that savings is done after using the money for basic needs. So Senthil bought new books to take notes in his class. Senthil's dream was to buy a camera. At the end of the year, his father checked his savings and bought him the latest camera with his savings!

Kamali had a clear plan. She had a friend named Anandhi. Anandhi's father was a flutist. They lived in the same street, so the girls used to visit each other often. On many of these occasions, Anandhi used to teach her to play the flute. Kamali always wanted to buy a flute. At the end of one year, she managed to save some amount. At that time, her father needed money urgently and asked if he could use her savings. He promised to return the money soon. Kamali gave her savings to her father. Although she was proud of helping her father, she still wanted to buy the flute. She was disappointed.
