Robot Expo

Anitha meets her friends and shares her experience of a robot expo.

Friends: Hi, you look excited. Anything special?

Anitha: Yes! I went to the 'ROBOT EXPO' yesterday. I was so excited seeing all the robots.

Friends: Tell us more!

Anitha: A humanoid welcomed me into the hall.

Friends: What is that?

Anitha: A robot that looks like a human. It even knew my name, I was so surprised and shocked that I stood there frozen.

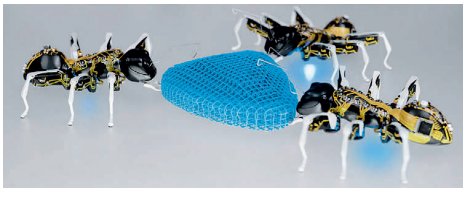

Friends: Wow!

Anitha: I am just getting started. A robot just looked at me and named the things I had with me.

Friends: Amazing, it must have scanned you with its eyes!

Anitha: The next robot danced for the songs played by the visitors. I suddenly found a butterfly sitting on my shoulder.To my surprise, it was a robot. There were robots of ants and fish too.

Friends: An ant robot? Wow!

Anitha: I saw a robot cooking dishes and serving all. It served me an omelette.
